Project SAVE (Social Added Value of Employability)

The “SAVE – Social Added Value of Employability” project is a Strategic Partnership supported by the Erasmus+ programme. Six European partners (Italy, Germany, Slovenia, Spain, France) combine their skills and approaches to fully achieve the goals of the horizontal objective “common values, civic commitment and participation”, through innovative training interventions for adults with low schooling, in order to trigger a virtuous circle between formal and informal education on the issues of global citizenship and social inclusion.

Low schooling is one of the main socio-demographic negative variables linked to inclusion behaviors and global citizenship. In particular, adults with a low schooling level are a target at risk of radicalization, that could lead to hate and xenophobia phenomena, especially in the current era of fake news.

SAVE project aims to design innovative training modules for adults with a low schooling on the issues of global citizenship and social inclusion.

Another goal is to improve the quality of the training offer for adults with low skills or qualification. Such improvement will be achieved including in the training courses a transversal dimension of inclusion values and active citizenship, represented by the subject of global citizenship.

TRANSNATIONAL MEETINGS

The Kickoff Meeting on Zoom in February

When you start an international project in the middle of a pandemic, you do not know when you will be able to meet the partners in person and work together at the same table. But when this finally happens, the chance to work side by side is even more appreciated!

The second transnational meeting in Bordeaux was an important occasion to share our ideas on the main themes and topics of the project - global citizenship, adult education - to review together the methodological guidelines and to plan the next steps of SAVE. In the beautiful city of Bordeaux, thanks to the great hospitality of Cap Ulysse, we defined the main themes that can be included in adult education courses to approach global citizenship in a transversal way: historical memory, citizenship and politics, critical thinking and digital domestic economy, gender equality, intercultural communication, ecology, environment and sustainability. Starting from these themes and the methodological guidelines, we are now ready to imagine and design new training modules that teachers will be free to experiment in their training courses!

INTELLECTUAL OUTPUT

The project includes 3 Intellectual Output:

IO1 – Methodology Vademecum

The Vademecum will contain the guidelines of potential activities and contents related to global citizenship, to be integrated into the training courses offered by the training agencies working with adults.

IO2 – Qualitative-Quantitative Assessment Toolkit

The Toolkit will help teachers/trainers to analyze the skills developed in the training courses designed and offered, enhanced with the global citizenship/social inclusion topics.

IO3 – User Handbook for the SAVE education model

The Handbook will be written after testing a training module containing the project's results. It will be shared and integrated with the training offers and methodologies applied by the training agencies.
